

Product and by-product

----Rev. John Mark (Wahab).

Product and by-product practically are not two different materials, but all are from the same material. Difference is of size and utilities.

In case of any production and industries normally; the main product and by-product are formed by the same raw materials. In case of leather industry, the main product might be shoes or bags of a leather manufacturing company or industry, but the scraps are also carry the same quality but not the same size and utility.

Now, let us come to the point of importance, which should be held first? If someone gives much emphasis on the by-products, resulting, he/she would be, of course, mistaken.

We like to discuss over Masihee Jamat- Bangladesh, (An Evangelical Ministry) which has been founded in 1976 to saturate the country with the glorious Gospel-the unique infallible message of love and salvation of God towards the fallen sinners.

We have started our primary work through distribution of the tracts written on the Gospel. In the initial stage, very humble way, we stepped out. The merciful God started pouring out blessing upon us bit by bit and in instilling in us wisdom and sagacity to move on instead of numerous hindrances at the end of the world.

Happily and joyfully, till now, by His constant leading, we have been doing the works and our dimensions started expanding. We must confess a fact, with fullness of heart that whatever the blessings we have been enjoying, were given us as free gift, cost free, as the salvation to a repentant sinner is given on faith.

I do not understand the art of trade or commerce. So far I could find, that is the mixture or twisting of truth and fallacy engineered at the hands of the wicked people. I cannot cope up with the hypocrisy people lay to cheat me. So, it is clear for me, evangelism is my sole responsibility throughout my whole life. I pray to the merciful God to use me in this field to evangelize His vineyard.

My weekly magazine entitled “Alor Foara” (The fountain of light) is not being published to meet the commercial gain, but it is a media to herald the Message and the glorious Gospel to the unreached people. The sole goal is to present the Gospel in such a way that people may understand and comprehend the Truth first.

The land property that belongs to the ministry is to serve the ministry, and till today, by teeth and nail, I am strict to reach at the goal.

The committed friends have been still sending the support to us faithfully, we are grateful to them. We also do pray for them and ask special blessing abundantly to cover the needs.
